business description: Adriano Garbarino is a multi-faceted figure, driven by the passion for his work. The many years of experience gained as Interior Designer in Europe, the USA, Russia, the Middle-East and Asia have led him to develop a style that combines his aesthetic approach with the sophisticated demands of each customer. All his creations and projects which draw on eclectic or more classical inspiration have made him internationally renowned for more than four decades. A natural talent for creativity and art combined with his technical expertise have led Adriano Garbarino to launch his personal furnishing collection under the name of "GARBARINO Collections". With the same sensitivity he uses in his projects, Adriano Garbarino always looks for solutions which consider the forgotten skills of the past: and so it is that research and experience become the foundation of all creative work, in which the artist and the designer interacts every day. This adventure begins in 1995 with the launch of the "Eclectica" rug collection, which is quickly added to the ROCHE BOBOIS catalog, before becoming an independent organization. In 2012, he decides to launch his own furniture brand which is remarkably successful. Today, this collection is available through numerous architects and interior designers as well as numerous showrooms located in Asia, the Middle East and America.
